

Jose Antonio Negrete is a Business Strategy and Development Associate working in Affiliate Operations and Academic Integration at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, TX. Jose also completed an Administrative Fellowship at Baylor College of Medicine. He graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a Bachelor of Science in Public Health in 2018. He earned his Master of Public Health in Healthcare Management from the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston School of Public Health in the Spring of 2021. His experience includes administrative internships with Houston Methodist Hospital in the Leadership and Learning Department at the corporate level, as well as a Project Specialist internship in the DeBakey CV Education Department. Prior to pursuing a graduate degree, Jose worked full-time as a Patient Financial Services Representative for Dell Medical School in Austin, TX. His professional interests include leadership theory and practice, process improvement, strategic planning and business development, and aspects of diversity, equity, and inclusion.