

Trudy Leidich MBA, RN

Trudy has been a results-driven leader, patient safety expert, and quality champion for more than 20 years. Her expertise is in developing system wide quality and safety strategies. She has served for the past 16 years as a senior executive focused on organization-wide transformational initiatives that have helped shape the industry safety practices. She has served as member of several national collaboratives consisting of healthcare thought leaders. Currently Trudy is the Vice President of Clinical Transformation and Quality at The Harris Center for Mental Health and IDD.