

Beryl Ramsey Finlan

National Leader – Clinical Operations
Health Care Consulting Services
Houston, Texas
beryl.ramsey@rsmus.com
+1 713.501.6250

Summary of experience

As a tenured executive with over 30 years of experience in the health care industry, Beryl has worked in various organizations including private and public health care systems, large academic centers and critical access hospitals. She has a great understanding of health care operations with a focus on financial performance, quality and safety resulting in margin improvement, physician practice management and strategic business development for health care organizations.

Beryl has been responsible for strategic and operational priorities in numerous practice areas. Prior to joining RSM, she served in several senior executive roles including Division President at a large health care system with 3.4 B in NR responsibility. She also held a role as corporate internal consultant with a focus on margin improvement. This experience solidified Beryl as an adaptable leader who can engage in diverse organizations. As a health care leader, some of her accomplishments include completing successful joint ventures and de novo hospital openings, ACO positive financial results, physician practice management, attainment of multiple quality and financial achievements, and significant margin improvements for health systems, hospitals and healthcare entities she has supported.

Areas of practice include:

- LOS reduction and patient throughput improvement
- Performance improvement in service lines
- Affiliations with research institutions and related facilities
- Physician practice management
- Value-based purchasing – accountable care organization and shared savings initiatives
- Supply chain initiatives
- Capacity planning, strategic and business planning

Beryl has extensive hospital operations experience and has held CFO, COO and CEO roles. Her initial start in health care as a registered dietitian was the beginning of her clinical and operational knowledge. Her experience through her career provides a wealth of knowledge and a collaborative and engaging approach when working with clients and stakeholders, including board members.

Professional affiliations and credentials

- Fellow, American College of Healthcare Executives
- Presentations: “No Margin No Mission,” (ACHE), “Care Management and LOS Case Study” (RSM)
- Chair and/or board member of various community organizations

Education

- Master of Business Administration, finance and management, University of Houston
- Bachelor of Science, nutrition and dietetics, University of Texas School of Allied Health