

David Chasteen, EVP, Marketing & Sales

David Chasteen has been working in national security and information warfare for more than two decades, with a particular focus on strategic messaging, NIST compliance, critical infrastructure security and threat intelligence. He has built and led best-in-class, collaborative programs at local, federal and corporate organizations and has a passion for community service, change leadership and fostering inclusive organizational cultures.

David was CISO for the San Francisco Police Department and GoFundMe. He was Executive Officer of the CIA's Covert Action Staff and a founding member of Iraq and Afghanistan Veterans of America. He was the lead consultant on Amazon's Jack Ryan and a writer and Consulting Producer on Amazon's El Candidato.