

Biography

Katie Robinson, PhD, MPH, RD, LD, CNSC
Medical Science Liaison Manager, Abbott Nutrition

Katie Robinson leads the Medical Science Liaison Team within Medical Affairs at Abbott Nutrition.

Dr. Robinson completed her bachelor's degree in Dietetics at Iowa State University and her dietetic internship at the University of Illinois in Urbana-Champaign (UIUC). During her time at UIUC, she also earned a Master of Public Health and a PhD in Nutritional Sciences, taught multiple undergraduate and graduate courses and assisted with coordinating the undergraduate didactic program in dietetics. She then completed postdoctoral training at University of Iowa's Diabetes Research Center. Her research investigated the impact of nutrition and genetics on outcomes of behavioral and surgical weight loss interventions.

Dr. Robinson is a Certified Nutrition Support Clinician and has served as a workgroup member for the Evidence Analysis Library of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. She is an advocate for dietitians in research and continues to publish in the areas of obesity, malnutrition and critical care nutrition.