

About Diane Scott, RN, MSN, PCC

Diane is a Georgetown-trained, certified executive coach with a global track record of elevating leaders across Fortune 500 companies, technology, healthcare, manufacturing, and public policy. Before her coaching career, she served as a healthcare administrator at the University of Pittsburgh, enriching her expertise in the healthcare sector. Leveraging her extensive experience in business, Diane specializes in helping clients navigate significant organizational challenges, enhance emotional intelligence, and boost engagement. Her work, particularly with a consultancy in Oxford, UK, has pioneered measurable strategies for improving team and organizational dynamics worldwide. Renowned for her expertise in leadership development, Diane has made notable contributions in diverse sectors, including coaching at the United Nations in New York and Africa, focusing on conflict resolution and innovation transfer.

